

The Department of Forestry and Natural Resources Honors Dr. Anthony S. Davis as a 2017 Purdue University Distinguished Agriculture Alumnus

Dr. Anthony Davis' interest in forestry and environmental conservation began in his home province of New Brunswick where he received a B.S. in Forestry at the University of New Brunswick. He received his M.S. and Ph.D. in Forestry at Purdue University. In support of his Ph.D. degree, Anthony was named Purdue's first van Eck graduate scholar.

After graduation from Purdue Dr. Davis joined the faculty in the Department of Forest, Rangeland and Fire Sciences at the University of Idaho with appointments in research, extension, teaching, and administration. Dr. Davis served as Director of the Center for Forest Nursery and Seedling Research, an integrated teaching, research, and outreach program. In 2013, Dr. Davis was named the Tom Alberg and Judi Beck Chair in Natural Resources, the first endowed chair at the University of Idaho. Dr. Davis was recently named Professor and Associate Dean for Research in the College of Forestry and Oregon State University.

For his exceptional career achievements and noteworthy ability, the Department of Forestry and Natural Resources is pleased to honor our alumnus, Dr. Anthony S. Davis, as a 2017 Distinguished Agriculture Alumnus.

Here is an outline of some of Dr. Anthony Davis' accomplishments

- 2016 Associate Dean for Research, Oregon State University, College of Forestry
- 2015 Dr. Arthur Maxwell Taylor Excellence in Diversity Award
- 2007 – 2016 Department of Forest Rangeland, and Fire Sciences, College of Natural Resources, University of Idaho
  - Tom Alberg and Judith Beck Chair in Natural Resources, 2013-2016
  - Head of the Department, 2013-2015
  - Director, Center for Forest Nursery and Seedling Research, 2007-2016
- 2006 PhD, Forestry and Natural Resources, Purdue University
- 2004 MS, Forestry and Natural Resources, Purdue University
- 2001-2002 Nursery grower, Pacific Regeneration Technologies
- 2001 BscF, University of New Brunswick

Dr. Davis is a HTIRC graduate student. He received his MS degree in 2003 and his PhD degree in 2006. Dr. Douglass F. Jacobs was Dr. Davis' professor for both degrees. We are very proud and happy that Dr. Davis was chosen as one of the Purdue University Distinguished Agriculture Alumnus. Below are some pictures for this event.

Dr. Anthony Davis with his former P.I. Dr. Douglass F. Jacobs

Dr. Douglass Jacobs, Dr. Anthony Davis, and Department Head of Purdue University Forestry and Natural Resources, Dr. Robert Wagner.

This is a picture of some of the HTIRC staff, graduate students, and professors.

Here are some pictures from ceremony from the Purdue Union North Ballroom

